Getting Started

Getting started with Screencast.com is quick and free.

Follow the below steps to create your own screencast.com account.

Once you start using Camtasia, you will likely want a way to share your content. Screencast.com provides a way to share and host your Camtasia content that offers a robust set of options for you to consider.

Screencast.com offers a free account that includes 2 GB of storage and a Pro account that offers additional storage and branding features (plans for the Pro account currently are $9.95/month and $99.95/year).

To create your own free Screencast.com account, complete the following steps:

1. Go to <http://www.screencast.com/>
2. Enter your information into the Sign Up box:
